Civitas Welcomes Two New Team Members!

New Member Welcome

Centralis Health

Presenter: Eric Kaplan

Date: November 16, 2022

Organizational Information

- Centralis Health – formerly HIE Networks, is a Tallahassee-based company that enables healthcare providers to access, manage, and use medical data to inform and optimize patient outcomes at every point across the care continuum. Centralis' Communication Suite was named a Top 10 Workflow Solution Provider by CIO Applications for its unique ability to improve workflow and comply with the highest security standards. Centralis also helps clients with process reengineering, interoperability, data harmonization, and population health management. With a more than a decade of experience delivering healthcare technology solutions, the Centralis team cares deeply about customer success and is dedicated to creating a better healthcare experience for everyone.
- Vision: A better health care experience for everyone.
- Mission: To enable health care providers to access, manage, and use medical information at the point of care and beyond.
- Website: centralishealth.com

We joined Civitas Networks for Health, here's why!

- Share your reasons for participating in the national network:
 - To empower health care professionals with HIPAA-compliant workflow tools so they can make informed decisions at every stage of patient care.
- Hopes for future partnerships
 - To transform the delivery of health care and improve patient outcomes, from the point of care to the community level to the global level. That's why we've made it our mission to enable health care providers to access, manage, and use medical data to inform and optimize patient outcomes at every point along the continuum of care.
- What you are looking forward to this year
 - Continued growth in the country and demystifying healthcare data sharing for all.
